JOINED THE UNITED STATES ARMY AIR CORP (TWO MONTHS LATER THE NAME WAS CHANGED TO THE UNITED STATES AIR FORCE)/WORLD WAR II/ENTERED APRIL 1942 AT DALLAS, DALLAS COUNTY, TEXAS. WAS SENT FIRST TO KELLY AIR FORCE BASE AT SAN ANTONIO, BEXAR COUNTY, TEXAS.

IN 1942, AT LACKLAND AIR FORCE (NOT FAR FROM KELLY AIR FORCE BASE), SAN ANTONIO, BEXAS COUNTY, TEXAS, Painted MURALS IN THE DAY ROOM (DIDN'T SIGN THEM).

HIS SECOND BASE WAS AT PINE BLUFF, JEFFERSON COUNTY, ARKANSAS, AT THE PINE BLUFF FLIGHT SCHOOL. STARTED OUT AS A PILOT, BUT WASHED OUT. THEY DISCOVERED AN EYE PROBLEM (DEPTH PERCEPTION WAS WAY OFF).

THIRD STATION WAS AT SIOUX FALLS, MINNEHAHA COUNTY, SOUTH DAKOTO, TO RADIO AND ELECTRONIC SCHOOL.

JAMES WAS THEN SENT TO HONDO, MEDINA COUNTY, TEXAS (CLOSE TO SAN ANTONIO) TO NAVIGATION SCHOOL. ON 31 JANUARY 1944, WHILE STATIONED AT HONDO, JAMES, RECEIVED AN COMMENDATION FOR OUTSTANDING ABILITY AND INITIATIVE DISPLAYED IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE 87th GROUP WAR ROOM. HE DISPLAYED OUTSTANDING QUALITIES OF APTITUDE, COOPERATIVENESS AND SKILL IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF WAR ROOM AND OROGRAPHIC MAPS THEREIN. MANY COMPLIMENTS WERE RECEIVED BY THE OFFICE OF DIRECTOR OF TRAINING ABOUT JAMES CONSTRUCTION OF THE WAR ROOM. THE ADDITIONAL DUTY THAT JAMES INITIATED IN THIS CONSTRUCTION WAS FAR BEYOND HIS LINE OF DUTY AND WAS OF A VERY COMMENDABLE NATURE. ON 30 NOVEMBER 1944, JAMES RECEIVED ANOTHER COMMENDATION FOR HIS UNSELFISH UTILIZATION OF OFF DUTY HOURS. HE ACCOMPLISHED IN A SUPERIOR MANNER, A SERIES OF PROJECTS CONCEIVED AND COMPLETED, BY HIS INGENUITY & INNATE ABILITIES, WITH ORIGINALITY AND DEVOTION TO DUTY, AS CO-CHAIRMAN OF THE ORIENTATION COMMITTEE. JAMES' UNTIRING EFFORTS GUIDED THE PROGRAMS OF THIS ORGANIZATION. JAMES' GENERAL ABILITY TO ACCOMPLISH AN ASSIGNMENT, AND HIS CHEERFUL WILLINGNESS ARE INDICATIONS OF THE HIGHEST TRADITIONS OF THE SERVICE.

FIFTH, JAMES WAS STATIONED AT SCOTT FIELD NEAR BELLEVILLE, ST. CLAIR COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

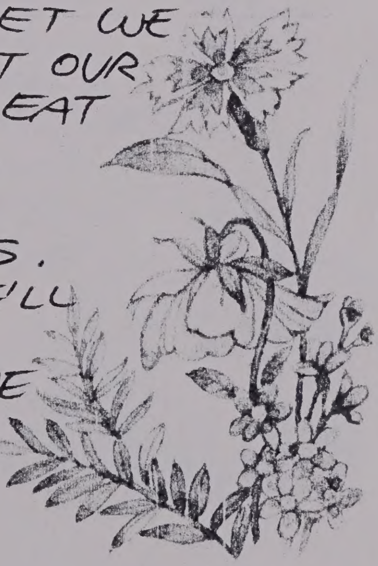
DEAREST FOLKS -

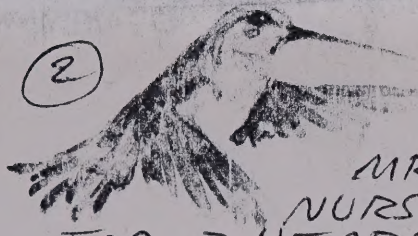
JUST A SHORT NOTE TO TELL YOU WE THINK OF ALL OF YOU QUITE OFTEN - AND PARTICULARLY, OF OUR THINKING OF YOU AT THIS TIME.

IN FACT 50 YEARS AGO, BETTY AND I VISITED WITH YOU ON OUR WEDDING TRIP WHEN WE CAME TO SEE YOU ON OUR HONEYMOON.

I AM ENCLOSING OUR PICTURE SO YOU CAN SEE WE LOOK THE SAME AS WE ALWAYS DID. THE ONLY DIFFERENCE IS WE DON'T HAVE ANY SHARP CORNERS NOW - WE ARE ROUND ALL OVER. BETTY SAYS THAT IS BECAUSE OF OUR DIET WE ARE ON. SHE CALLS IT OUR "ROTATION" DIET. WE EAT EVERYTIME WE TURN AROUND.

WE MISS YOU GUYS. DON'T KNOW WHEN WE'LL EVER GET OUT OF TEXAS - BUT WHEN WE DO - WE'LL COME TO SEE YOU.





WE ARE ALL DOING PRETTY GOOD. THAT IS ALL EXCEPT FOR MRS. LUCAS. SHE IS IN A NURSING HOME AND HAS BEEN FOR 3 YEARS. SHE DID VERY WELL UP UNTIL ABOUT 4 MONTHS AGO. SHE HAS CIRCULATION PROBLEMS AND HAS A BAD LEG. THEY TALKED ABOUT HAVING TO OPERATE - BUT AT HER AGE - SHE'S COMING UP ON 100 IN SEPTEMBER - WE WOULD HATE FOR HER TO GO THROUGH AN OPERATION, SO WE ARE MOSTLY JUST STANDING BY TO SEE WHAT THE DOCTORS COME UP WITH FOR TREATMENT. SHE IS IN GOOD SPIRITS AND SHE STILL KNOWS US, BUT HER MEMORY ISN'T VERY GOOD ABOUT ANYTHING ELSE — BUT AT A 100 YEARS THAT IS TO BE EXPECTED.

ON A HAPPIER NOTE, BETTY AND I GOT SOMETHING TO SHOW ON OUR GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. JIM AND SUE PRESENTED US WITH A LITTLE GRANDSON IN JAN.(5TH) OF THIS YEAR. THEY DON'T LIVE VERY FAR AWAY FROM US (ABOUT A 5 MIN. DRIVE) SO WE GET TO SEE HIM QUITE OFTEN. HE'S A LITTLE DOLL AND HE DOESN'T LACK FOR ATTENTION AS YOU MAY HAVE GUESSED. I'LL ENCLOSE A PICTURE OF HIM WE HAD MADE LAST MONTH SO YOU CAN GET AN IDEA OF WHAT HE LOOKS LIKE.

WHEN I WAS OVER TO SEE MRS. LUCAS YESTERDAY I SAID TO HER THAT I WOULD LIKE FOR HER TO SEE OUR LITTLE BABY GRANDSON – I SAID "WOULD YOU LIKE FOR ME TO BRING HIM TO SEE YOU?" SHE THOUGHT FOR A SECOND OR TWO AND SAID "YES, I GUESS THAT WOULD BE ALRIGHT, BUT I KNOW WHAT A BABY LOOKS LIKE!"

NEVER THE LESS, BETTY AND I THINK HE'S SOME THING SPECIAL, AND EVEN THOUGH HE LOOKS LIKE AN ORDINARY, EVERYDAY BABY – WE (AND ALL OTHER GRANDPARENTS) KNOW BETTER. THAT'S ONE OF THE REASONS WE BOUGHT HIM A LITTLE CAP THAT HAS SOME PRINTING ACROSS THE FRONT THAT SAYS "IF DAD SAYS NO! – ASK GRANDPA!"

WE WOULD LOVE TO HERE FROM YOU –

ALL OUR LOVE AS ALWAYS!

P.S. I RAN OUT OF ROOM BEFORE I GOT A CHANCE TO SAY THAT BETTY ANN AND JIM ARE DOING O.K. THEY BOTH LIVE IN WICHITA FALLS - BETTY ANN STILL WORKS AT A BAIL BOND OFFICE AND HAS BEEN FOR THE LAST SEVERAL YEARS. JIM IS TEACHING ENGLISH AT A PRIVATE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL AND IS COMPLETING WORK ON A DOCTORATE. HE HAS FINISHED HIS ACADEMIC WORK - AND WILL COMPLETE HIS DISSERTATION THIS COMING YEAR. SUE, JIM'S WIFE, IS TEACHING AT MIDWESTERN. SHE TEACHES ENGLISH, TOO.

I TOLD THEM I HAD WRITTEN YOU A LETTER AND THEY SAID I HAD DONE GOOD!

DEAR WILLIE LEE AND FAMILY,

WE THINK OF YOU OFTEN - AND ENJOY HEARING FROM YOU - OUR CORRESPONDENCE, UNFORTUNATELY, SUFFERS FROM BEING ON THE LIST OF "GOOD INTENTIONS". KEEP WRITING, AND WE'LL KEEP ENJOYING, AND HOPEFULLY, OUT OF THE CLEAR BLUE, WE'LL DO A NICE LETTER AND "TELL ALL".

BETTY IS STILL DOING WELL WITH HER COLON PROBLEM. JIM HAD A CANCEROUS MOLE ON HIS BACK - WAS OPERATED ON, AND SEEMS TO BE DOING NICELY. HE AND SUE HAD ANOTHER LITTLE BOY. (COLE IS NEARLY 2 YRS. ADAM IS NEARLY 2 MONTHS) WE ARE REALLY ENJOYING THEM. BETTY ANN IS STILL DOING FINE. I AM STILL DOING WELL.

AS I SAID BEFORE, WE REALLY LIKE TO GET YOUR LETTERS — IF YOU HAVE TIME SOMETIME - DRAW ME A LITTLE SKETCH OF YOUR IMMEDIATE FAMILY TREE, AND LABEL THE KIDS, HUBBIES, WIVES, ETC. THIS WILL

Sincerely wishing you all the joys and blessings of the Christmas Season

Dear Maryalice,

Sorry that I didnt write sooner. We did recieved the pictures. I went back to the hospital in Dec. and had Laser Surgery this time. Will probably have it again this next month. I think Laser is the way to go. I have done a lot more. We are busy trying to get our yard shaped up again. We wish you girls could come to see us again.

We enjoyed having you. Maybe your husband would like a trip to Texas. Sounds like you have your children here and there. Is Willie still in the Carolinas? Do stay in touch

Love,
Betty and James

Wishes

Betty and I love to get your letters - I am sorry I don't take time to write - my intentions are good - but somehow I find myself doing other things - right now I am playing "GWAMPA" to two little grandsons (2 and 4). They would move in with us if their Mom and Dad would let them.

We are enjoying good health, and stay on the go quite a bit. We went to Chicago to visit Betty Ann and husband Bill recently. This is the first time she has been this far away from us in her whole life. We miss her, but they are doing real well there. He is an engineer (mechanical) at a plant in Aurora.

My new years resolution is to answer your letters - We love to hear from you - Please keep

Wishing you a beautiful season and joys that keep growing throughout the new year

Happy Holidays

writing to us.

All our love -

Hi everyone,

Here are a few pictures from Lakeside City. They include a view of the lake from our back yard, a picture of me on my 92nd birthday and Betty (with grandson Cole).

I have had a Birthday or two since the above part of the letter is a little out of date. Jim has been helping me to try to get back into the letter writing . I'll send a longer letter, later .

All our love and regards from this side of the Texas side of the family.

Dear Folks,

Jim came down to our little house and finished up getting me back in the letter writing business. I didn't realize that so much of what little I know about typing had went by the wayside. So I will try to recount, and re-tell things I said in the past few years. That is one of the hazards of our older years. We can remember what we said, but can't remember who we said it to. So if you say to yourself, he already told me that, chalk it up to my advanced years, and hope I tell it the same way twice. That will some times be to your advantage, as you can have a choice of the better version of my story.

Mom and I are faring pretty good. Still in our little safe Haven, close by Jim and Sue. Adam is still with us, but don't see him very much. I keep forgetting he is a grown young man with a life of his own. He is a Senior in Midwestern (my old Stomping grounds), I retired from there, and if I had known I was going to be around this long, I would probably still be there. I loved that school and thought I owned it. Cole got his schooling in Architecture and is now in Dallas with a National firm and is fitting in his vocation very nicely. My vocation is scattering about 500 giant White Geese out of the driveway every 3o minutes. I don't like their calling cards but their memory is a carbon copy of mine, but I, so far, I have better manners than they do.

This is Sunday morning and about lunch time. I know what I would like, but nobody is around to do some of that good old fried chcken and gravy that we used to have for Sunday dinner. I have the feeling that those kind of dinners depended on the family and friends to make it so memorable.

Mom and I have got it "made". We sleep a lot, It is too hot to go outside except early morning and late evening. It is so hot even the mosquitoes won't get out in this Texas heat which is a good thing. Part of our problem is lack of rain. We are supposed to have 13 inches at this time of year, and so far we have only had 3 inches. Since we live on the lake we notice the drop in rainfall by the depth of the lake. We have a pump so we have managed to keep the grass going. Mom and I don't do any yard work any more, but the kids keep things looking good. We have a pretty sizable yard Which brings to mind a little story. We have huge trees and a lot of shady places with sitting areas, and enjoy all that when the heat of the summer settles down. Mom and I were out under the trees a couple of years ago, and we saw a woman and several kids come up our drive way, got out with their picnic basket and started looking around. Since we are at the end of a one way street, we wondered about them, as they looked around. Finally' the woman said, let's go. There are too many ducks here. and besides we don't have time to look through their trinkets here, pointing to Jim and Sue's house. By that time Mom and I, in our work shirts and pants, had walked towards them and could hear their discussion. I was about to ask them if they were lost, when she said, "Don't they have any picnic tables?" , , Of course by that time, I knew they were in the wrong pew, but she looked at me and pointed to Jim and Sues' house and said " What's in there?". " That's where my kids live". I said. And she turned up her nose, And said, " Well, I never! I never heard of a town that let any body build a house in the middle of the park!" By this time, I realized she was still lost. Since she was already on her way out, I didn't try to explain and Betty and I had a broad grin and a chuckle and watched her drive away still hunting for a picnic table.

Guess I better go to the kitchen. Don't know if any body brought us any fried chicken and gravy. Right now I'd settle for the gravy. Sorry!, I drifted off into Dream Land there for a minute. I wonder if those big white geese are edible. Cancel that thought. I'd probably never get Betty to fix it, And have to do it on the grill, and those things are too big for the grill anywayI can still make gravy, though.

The last time I made gravy, I didn't stir fast enough, and it didn't turn out too good. Do you know anyone who needs a few golf balls? Love From your Texas Kin Folks,

Betty and James

Hi Everyone,

Jim has this set up so all I have to do is type my message and push send.

Jim made it all sound so simple when he was instructing me how easy it is to respond to E Mail. First, you find the computer. Then this is the where the hard part just starts. Where is the button you push to turn the thing "On". So far, so good. Done that. and here I am. Greetings and Halucinations My typewriter didn't know that the way I write I some times don't follow the rules about my diction, and it thought I should have said Salutations. But you have heard me talk and you know that my deep Texas up Bringing and diction from this part of Texas follows the accepted way of trying to communicate with another fellow Texan. And speaking of writing I am so rusty in trying to write a letter you will see as I go along that it could have been more apt in the use of even Texas lingo. In fact, I lost this part of my letter and quite by accident (after I had started another letter to you), this letter popped up on my screen, so , since this one is here, I will work on it, so if you get this, and another version pops up, try to overlook one of them and chalk it up to old age and non-typing education. This is a fearsome combination for the recipient. But who knows , at least I am not writing for Posterity. Remind me to look that word up. I think it is supposed to mean our future Ancestors. My kids better get busy. They have opted for education, apparently. They are more interested in what their next school will be than what the next girl friend will be. Cole (oldest Grandson) is gainfully employed as an Architect with an old line Firm, and reports he is happy with his good fortune. He probably got his leaning in this direction from hearing me describe how I built a chicken coop once. Adam our other Grandson is in his Senior year at Midwestern State University, That is where I spent 25 years of my last working years. Most enjoyable years of my life. That is a whole "nother" chapter of my history.

Guess I had better bring this to a screeching halt . Write again when you get a chance. I love t hear from you. Until next time, Best Wishes, Love From your Distant (in miles) Texas kin.

Some of us Old Geezzers got as far South as we could hunting for Florida, ,but found out we had the wrong map, and probably the wrong book. I remember Paris, but I thought that was in France. Then I ran across Banladesh, so I began to be suspicious. Enough of the lesson on maps and flora and Fauna. I think that was the two pretty little girls two seats ahead of me inthe third grade. I sat throough that grade twice only to find that on re- enrolling, two of the town bullies got those seats, and the teacher moved one of them up and put me in the seat inthe middle. All was not lost, howeer, I got enough practic that I became Captain of the Dodge Ball Team.

Here it is April rolling around again. You are probably wondering why I am up past 10 Oclock. That is a fair question and deserves an ....honest answer.... I hate to change times when the govern tells me to, so I do what Our grandmother Henson use to do.... They started that proceedure back in the days when our Head Gov,t person was a leader named Roosevelt who for some unknown reason having to do withwork production, added an hour tothe work schedule at the start of the work day, but you got off an hour earlier at the end of the day. The fact that someone by the name of Roosevelt had something todo with it was enough to cancel that project as far as Grandmother Henson was concerned. Our family never found out why she had such a bias against that family name. But to get back to the "clock" story.Grandmother Henson had two sets of clocks in every room..{or it seemed like it.] One clock had the new time and one had the old time, so as you the viewier could have the time you preferred. I susspect somebody in the family had a hand in that, but no body knows about that. I solved my problem by not replacing my watch when it played out and since I use mostly the Music Channell, I don't know about much about what happened after Washington crossed the Delaware. That was about the time that somebody found this new country they named Tea House. It seemed a bunch of English people had got here first' and found the grass shack, they drew pictures they labeledous land marks so others would see how smart they were. They did this but when they came to Tea House "Tea House", { as a Land Mark}, they were not sure how to spell these two words together, so after a few tries, they gave up and put a big "X" to indicate that part of the rest of the word was anybodys guess. So they forgot to finish the rest of the directions, somebody else found the unfinished note, read it, and shouted over to his friend and told him that according to the note he found that this was apparently " Texas". Or this is what I"ve been told. If you want some other verification,you might try that little "two by four" shack across the track from the brewery. I've been told that you'd be surprised what all you can hear about any night of the week . Try to avoid Saturday nite as it's hard to find an applecrate unoccupied at this time of the year.

Mom and I arer doing very well considering our advancing years. Mom had her 90th celebration this Feb.and I've got her beat a couple of years. My 93rd will be in Sept.(5th). Our kids, are grown. Jim and Sue, his wife, are our next door neighbors. Adam is still in College and lives at home with his Mom and Dad. His Mom teaches Advanced English at Midwestern State University,my old stomping grounds.[25 years there as Director of the Student Center.]I know you know all that, but I am taking advantage of my senior status to repeat myself [over again and again]. Adam is majoring in English, so we will be pretty well fixed with English teachers. Jim teaches English when he finds time for it, but right now he has his hands full with teaching Art and Acting at High School level. My degree is ("HOT" in the summer and "COLD" in the winter) I would have made a pretty good Actor, though. I had to act as though I knew what I was doing in my capacity as a Director of anything. As it turned out,some of our Daddy must have rubbed off on me. In a tight spot, I would say to myself" " what would Daddy do with a problem like this?" I took advantage of this even when I was new at acting as a head Baker on a new job. Even though I might be in another Town, I might call him for advice on what to put in what to over come a potential disaster.

Sorry I get so long winded... My machine lets me go just so long, then cuts me off. So I will quit for now, and pick up a little later (Tomrrow ?)All our love.............Betty, James,Adam and Cole

> We here in Texas are having some very assorted tries at trying to decide whether from one day to the next if we are going to have more Winter or an early Spring. It was 72 here yesterday followed by 23 the next day. We are just getting over our surprise snow from a couple of days ago. That was OK, though. Our grownn Grandsons (Adam and Cole) remembered what it was from another time in their life when they were kids. I noticed that someone had posted pictures of that afore mentioned snow at that time here on this computer. Things don't change much around here.. We are still living on the lake at our regular place, and Mom and I are still in our little house looking out on the lake on three sides. Our little piece of land sticks out in the lake with the lake on three sides of us as was always the case. We have a five foot cemnt wall built around our property that keeps us separated from the water . We bought it that way and so far we each have kept it that way. There is a dam that keeps us getting just the right amount of water to keep us from floating away.I don't think that I said that just right, but after 12 years, we are still here, so no matter what I said, we haven't budged an inch
> . I better give you a health report before I run out of space. I remember that this i the same computer that types just so much, then just quits with no re-calls. I complained to Jim, and his remedy was to just quit. As I was about to say, the > occasion of me writing this letter was to let you all know that Mom (Betty) is having a Birthday tomorrow Sunday the 27th. She will be the big 9 O. I passed that a couple of years ago. But I haven't figured that out either. Clean living, Would be my guess. I always say when asked I say "Well, I don't Drink, Smoke, Use bad language, Prowl around with Shady Characters', play around with Fallen Women, (I'm not counting Mom) she has fallen a few times , but she winds up with a ride in an ambulance for emergenty treatment and I can't see where that old saying fits into a discussion about your moral status. After I discuss all this clean living with other people my age, they, say, " From what I make out of what you are saying, I wonder what you are hanging around for. That's a fair question. But I'm working on it. No doubt, I will come up with an answer, It will probably be so confusng that you will still be wodering if I answered the question, or changed the subject. Cole finished his Arcitectural degrees and is gainfully employed in a large firm in Dallas. He had taken a job in Atlanta and had just got moved when a job opened in Dallas with more money and better prospects so i for one liked that better since I may get to see him on occassion. Atlanta was too far away for my liking.I may never get to Dallas, but it sounds closer than Atlanta. At least we'll hope he will be close enough to see us in our later years. Jim and Sue are still in their teaching proffessions. And to my surprise are getting into their reach of retiring. That is hard for me to believe. How time flies as we often say. I forget how long I have been out of the work force. We qualified for household help, and although Mom is not as able to get around as well as I do, she is faring really well., She has a bad back from many years ago, but her treatment allows her to be pain free, and we both think we have it better than most people who don't knowwhen to quit. We still live in our little retirement house and with our household helper (a wonderful heler) We fair really well. she is a pat of our family, and we are so lucky to have her. I have forgotten how to stop this machine. But from past experience, I remember it finally quits all by itself and craters everything along with it. More later Have a good rest of the day More later when I gt more used to this attempt to bridge the gap of what I' have forgotten. All our love from the far away never never land of Texas. Belated Mail to all from a slightly belated former contributor to the wordy nonsence reserved from this part of Texas -James

Hi all,

Dad has been trying to send a message out, but needed some help. I will send it soon.We are all doing very well. Mom is celebrating her 90th birthday today.I hope you are all doing well!

more later- ALL our love,

Trying to recall how I used to write EMails

This is a second try to recall how I used to spend hours trying to peck out a few words of random thoughts that passed as communication. Depending upon how you remember our former attempts, maybe all is not lost due to the long hiatus since the last struggling letters fell upon a helpless audience.

We here in Texas are having some very assorted tries at trying to decide whether from one day to the next if we are going to have more Winter or an early Spring. It was 72 here yesterday followed by 23 the next day. We are just getting over our surprise snow from a couple of days ago. That was OK, though. Our grownn Grandsons (Adam and Cole) remembered what it was from another time in their life when they were kids. I noticed that someone had posted pictures of that afore mentioned snow at that time here on this computer. Things don't change much around here.. We are still living on the lake at our regular place, and Mom and I are still in our little house looking out on the lake on three sides. Our little piece of land sticks out in the lake with the lake on three sides of us as was always the case. We have a five foot cemnt wall built around our property that keeps us separated from the water . We bought it that way and so far we each have kept it that way. There is a dam that keeps us getting just the right amount of water to keep us from floating away.I don't think that I said that just right, but after 12 years, we are still here, so no matter what I said, we haven't budged an inch

. I better give you a health report before I run out of space. I remember that this i the same computer that types just so much, then just quits with no re-calls. I complained to Jim, and his remedy was to just quit. As I was about to say, the occasion of me writing this letter was to let you all know that Mom (Betty) is having a Birthday tomorrow Sunday the 27th. She will be the big 9 O. I passed that a couple of years ago. But I haven't figured that out either. Clean living, Would be my guess. I always say when asked I say "Well, I don't Drink, Smoke, Use bad language, Prowl around with Shady Characters', play around with Fallen Women, (I'm not counting Mom) she has fallen a few times , but she winds up with a ride in an ambulance for emergenty treatment and I can't see where that old saying fits into a discussion about your moral status. After I discuss all this clean living with other people my age, they, say, " From what I make out of what you are saying, I wonder what you are hanging around for. That's a fair question. But I'm working on it. No doubt, I will come up with an answer, It will probably be so confusng that you will still be wodering if I answered the question, or changed the subject. Cole finished his Arcitectural degrees and is gainfully employed in a large firm in Dallas. He had taken a job in Atlanta and had just got moved when a job opened in Dallas with more money and better prospects so i for one liked that better since I may get to see him on occassion. Atlanta was too far away for my liking.I may never get to Dallas, but it sounds closer than Atlanta. At least we'll hope he will be close enough to see us in our later years. Jim and Sue are still in their teaching proffessions. And to my surprise are getting into their reach of retiring. That is hard for me to believe. How time flies as we often say. I forget how long I have been out of the work force. We qualified for household help, and although Mom is not as able to get around as well as I do, she is faring really well., She has a bad back from many years ago, but her treatment allows her to be pain free, and we both think we have it better than most people who don't knowwhen to quit. We still live in our little retirement house and with our household helper (a wonderful heler) We fair really well. she is a pat of our family, and we are so lucky to have her. I have forgotten how to stop this machine. But from past experience, I remember it finally quits all by itself and craters everything along with it. More later Have a good rest of the day More later when I gt more used to this attempt to bridge the gap of what I' have forgotten. All our love from the far away never never land of Texas. Am trying to get the hang of writing again. I didn't know hoe long t has been since I sat down at the key board. My "Thinker " must have gone on on vacation, All of it must have not returned, but we will try to do without the part that makes any sense. I've never had to do without some help. but in an effort to let you know that I am still around, this so called EMail will testify that at least, Jim did a tgood job of letting you know that me and all my repair jobs have seen me through some annoying times. I'm held together by the Grace of GOD, and a lot of surgical thread. My mosst annoying trouble is trying to get my reading seeing ability to get back on track again. This has a bad affect on my train of thought and my one handed approach to find the right place to punch the keyboard . Jim has helped me a lot by at least telling family members that my spirit is willing, but my aility to communicate is limited to letting you know that I am I can still reconize a computer when I see one, but that is about all that I can do about it. I and machnery were never the best od friends even when I was blessed with more of my knowledge.and sight.

To add to my missing the use of the correspondence, I got a message in my EMail that I had not used my Email for the last month or so, they were going to delete my use of said EMail so prepare to do without it. This sure came as a surprise to me. I thought that when you signed up for that you had it forever as long as you paid your fee. So, what if I didn't have any thing to say except my health problems, and who wants to hear about ninety plus year olds change of medicines from day to day. So I am going to send each of you a catalog of what all I"m ordering out of and each day I will send you a EMail and tell you what page to turn to see what is crrently keeping me up and running. At least it will keep the EMail score keeper employed.

Since I have did my job of using the EMail I will have to go for now. But don't dispair. I am going to my eye Doctor Monday and try to get glasses that fit me. The pair I got the last time don't work so good. At least I am blaming that on my quaint way I am spelling . I have to blame somebody. Beng Ninety plus couldn't have any thing too do with it.

So long for now. I think of you all the time and wish I could see and hug each one of you. This letter is also from Betty. She says HI to all........James and Betty

Hi Family,
This is Jim sending a report on Dad and the Texas family in Lakeside. We are all doing amazingly well. Dad has had a couple of surgeries- cateract surgery in December (sucessful and seeing better every day) and last week he had a hernia repaired (laproscopically)- he was in and out the same day! He's getting around fine- Mom and Dad are both very alert: such a pleasure to have them so close. Mom is not out of bed very much due to her back condition, but Gunsmoke or some oldie is always blaring away in the background keeping her entertained. She gets up and eats a little more often at the table now (she turned 89 last month)

My wife Sue is at an English conference in Kentucky, our son Cole is finishing his MA in Architecture this May, and Adam is entering his Junior year at MSU majoring in English and French. I'm teaching art at Rider HS and directing a play this semester. We have been enjoying our spring break and are sad to go back to the "real world" tomorrow.

I added my gmail on the cc line if you need to get in touch with me- also for future reference, Mom and Dad dropped their old phone number and are using one line at the house- 940-692-3587- it has an answering machine, and we will get back to you if you call.

Dad may not have current emails on extended family- if you notice some of our close family is left off this letter, please forward it to them and ask them to reply with their current email addresses so we can keep everyone in the loop.

Love you all,
Happy Spring- Jim

I will try again for the third time to try to complete and send an E Mail. I didn't realize thatI had forgotten so much about the "know how".

Briefly, an update from the " Texas" side of the family. We arestill in Lakeside City. You will remember that this a little community on the West side of Lake Wichita. we've been out here more years than I can remember, and since we are situated in the same place so long, guess we will stay put the rest our older age. Jim and Sue are still close by. We live in a smaller house just a stones throw away from their home, so we stay pretty near which means we are able to be close by as we grow older. Betty and I are still in pretty good shape. Betty is able to navigate ' using an Electric wheeler which gets her around , but we in live in such a compact little house, everything is almost in arms reach. I use a wheeled Walker and am pretty mobile. We have an added advantage of having a woderful lady who comes in weekdays and takes care of our daily routines. We've threatoned to adopt her, but she has her own family, and I'm afraid they would not want to part with such a nice person. I really thought going into an older age that things would drag and we'd be bored stiff. But such , with us, this is not the case. We don't have much company, but we never did. We've been so self contained, and so far away from kinfolks that we missed just a whole lot of good, wholesome, inter-mingling kinship. I even recall that at one time, we didn't see each other for seven years. Times were pretty tough and mine and Betty's car was only able to make it to work and back, and the grocery store. California was a long way off, and we kept our hopes up that times would pick up. Over the years, things did improve, but time didn't stand still, and the world went on without us. I can imagine that there is a whole generation there that may wonder where is Texas, and " didn't you all know someone there once?" And, if they are very young, they may even ask if we know any Indians. The answer is we don't see them where we live, but just across the Red River, just twenty miles from where we live, that is Oklahoma, and you can not only see real live Indians,you can intermingle, shop with them, and never know it. In fact, we have had some intermingling in our own family. On our own family tree I've been told (by my Daddy (Henson) that our branch of the Hensons had Indian relatives. He said he didn't know much about it, but said he'd tell me what he knew about what he had heard about it, but we never got around to it. California snuck into the picture and the subject got buried in the distance of time. It is possible he might have told someone there, and if so, I would like hear " the Rest of the story".

As you can see, I get started and don't when to quit. At least you can have the option of reading a little at a time. At my age I never read a serial story. I'm afraid I won't be around to see how it comes out.

Good Night, and since I enjoyed the chance to practice my " Hunt and Peck" typing skills, you may be the target of yet another attemt in the very near future. We think of all of you and often think of you and all the past good times we have had together.

All our Love, We think of you every day ....Betty and James

Some of us Old Geezzers got as far South as we could hunting for Florida, ,but found out we had the wrong map, and probably the wrong book. I remember Paris, but I thought that was in France. Then I ran across Banladesh, so I began to be suspicious. Enough of the lesson on maps and flora and Fauna. I think that was the two pretty little girls two seats ahead of me inthe third grade. I sat throough that grade twice only to find that on re- enrolling, two of the town bullies got those seats, and the teacher moved one of them up and put me in the seat inthe middle. All was not lost, howeer, I got enough practic that I became Captain of the Dodge Ball Team.

Here it is April rolling around again. You are probably wondering why I am up past 10 Oclock. That is a fair question and deserves an ....honest answer.... I hate to change times when the govern tells me to, so I do what Our grandmother Henson use to do.... They started that proceedure back in the days when our Head Gov,t person was a leader named Roosevelt who for some unknown reason having to do withwork production, added an hour tothe work schedule at the start of the work day, but you got off an hour earlier at the end of the day. The fact that someone by the name of Roosevelt had something todo with it was enough to cancel that project as far as Grandmother Henson was concerned. Our family never found out why she had such a bias against that family name. But to get back to the "clock" story.Grandmother Henson had two sets of clocks in every room..{or it seemed like it.] One clock had the new time and one had the old time, so as you the viewier could have the time you preferred. I susspect somebody in the family had a hand in that, but no body knows about that. I solved my problem by not replacing my watch when it played out and since I use mostly the Music Channell, I don't know about much about what happened after Washington crossed the Delaware. That was about the time that somebody found this new country they named Tea House. It seemed a bunch of English people had got here first' and found the grass shack, they drew pictures they labeledous land marks so others would see how smart they were. They did this but when they came to Tea House "Tea House", { as a Land Mark}, they were not sure how to spell these two words together, so after a few tries, they gave up and put a big "X" to indicate that part of the rest of the word was anybodys guess. So they forgot to finish the rest of the directions, somebody else found the unfinished note, read it, and shouted over to his friend and told him that according to the note he found that this was apparently " Texas". Or this is what I"ve been told. If you want some other verification,you might try that little "two by four" shack across the track from the brewery. I've been told that you'd be surprised what all you can hear about any night of the week . Try to avoid Saturday nite as it's hard to find an applecrate unoccupied at this time of the year.

Mom and I arer doing very well considering our advancing years. Mom had her 90th celebration this Feb.and I've got her beat a couple of years. My 93rd will be in Sept.(5th). Our kids, are grown. Jim and Sue, his wife, are our next door neighbors. Adam is still in College and lives at home with his Mom and Dad. His Mom teaches Advanced English at Midwestern State University,my old stomping grounds.[25 years there as Director of the Student Center.]I know you know all that, but I am taking advantage of my senior status to repeat myself [over again and again]. Adam is majoring in English, so we will be pretty well fixed with English teachers. Jim teaches English when he finds time for it, but right now he has his hands full with teaching Art and Acting at High School level. My degree is ("HOT" in the summer and "COLD" in the winter) I would have made a pretty good Actor, though. I had to act as though I knew what I was doing in my capacity as a Director of anything. As it turned out,some of our Daddy must have rubbed off on me. In a tight spot, I would say to myself' " what would Daddy do with a problem like this?" I took advantage of this even when I was new at acting as a head Baker on a new job. Even though I might be in another Town, I might call him for advice on what to put in what to over come a potential disaster.

Sorry I get so long winded... My machine lets me go just so long, then cuts me off. So I will quit for now, and pick up a little later (Tomrrow ?)All our love.............Betty, James,Adam and Cole

You thought that all of us from this part of Texas... would have succumbed fromliving in an oven in Texas , but such is not the case. We may be a little addled from living here so long, but it only lasts a month, then we get throughly thaed out from our cold winters, and start wishing for our other side of the coin, hot summers. So if you add our summers and winters, it turns out to be an ideal temperature.

I was never very good at math, so I am still sweating it out in the summers, Several years ago Mom and I moved (And Sue and Jim, too) pooled our rescourses, across the lake to an Ideal spot that had a nice large huse and a smaller boat house nearby, which we remodeled for our living quarters which was on liltle exstention of land sticking out into the water ..You might say when we got our remodeling done, we had a nice set of living space like we like it, with water on three sides of us, which gave us the impression that we lived in the lake. Fortunately the people who lived here before us had a five foot tall cement wall built around our jut of land whch separated us from the lake. This sounds a little risky, but we've been here going on twelve years and no sign of flooding. So you might say we are living "in the lake' in stead of "On the lake"...

Jim and Sue are still in the " big House" Adam is still home about to graduate from my old home turf and 25 years of the "Best years of my life", at Midweatern University. At one time I thought I owned that place and thought sure it would go out of business when I retired, but somehow it grew bigger and much to my amazement , more prestigious. Mom was also ready to retire from a job she liked real well as a supervisor, working with handicap people working with their hands making a part that needed "hands on" assembly. Mom really liked to work with them, and they really loved her as a boss. She hated to leave them, but the company worked on a contract basis, and changed their needs as the contracts changed, so Mom found a good quitting place when I retired, so we were free to go out and see the world That lasted about three weeks. We took a trip to California, loved the visit, but found out that we were not cut out for living out of a suitcase. So we went home (back to Good 'Ol hot Texas) Completely cured of seeing the world. Qur condition of our bank balance was a major factor in our "cure". In our cure several factors stood out as major factors. When you had our set ways of having spent doing what you wanted to do, we found it not to our liking to get used to something that wasn't our way of doing things. Another important thing was an important factor,that was realizing that we had gotten so used to air conditioning that we didn't know how much we missed all that artificially ice cold living conditioning. Believe it or not, in our little house we have to dress warmly to stay comfortable. We can always expect to have hot summers that always start early and stay late. So we set the thermometer to "cold", and stay "put" in the house. This works fine for us "old Timers" but there are others who (like us) in our working days didnt have a choice. I complained to somebody the other day that someday the paper would report that somebody at our house froze to death, when the outside report was 113 degrees. Our little house is so well insolated that it's cold in the inside and winter time it stays warm.. We set it on 75 and let it worry about summer and winter. Mom and I have it madein our old age. (Mom just turned 90 in Feb, I am creepng up on 93) Isn't that something ....I Guess I must be good for something. I still mosey aound with the help of a small wheeled walker, and can still find my way around the kitchen, and we have a real nice lady that comes in weekdays and keeps us aimed in the right direction, sees to our pills and baths, and other needs. so as I said before " we've got it "made". Jim and Sue are handy when needed. They take us for check ups now and then for medicine refills, but that don,t happen very often. It is so coforting to have them where they can step in often to check on us and also knowing that we can communicate with them, We have these small phones we carry in our pockets so all we havw to do is fish out the little phones, punch in one number anf get an answer instantly. Being along in years is not so bad in this day of modern miracles. Thats what our Grandmas and Grandpas would have thought all these things were.

As you can tell by what I have said so far, just every day living is not very exciting here in Texas. Most states are famous for something like scenery, or mountains, or wateror sports, or any thing unusual. In a way, that is not a bad thing.Every thing is flat as a pancake any where you look, but as a well known old timey song's lyracs said, "We got plenty 'uv nuttin' ". I may be a little hard on my description of this part of Texas, but there is something that can be said for those of us who have been here nearly a hundred years, that something must have worked for us, so maybe we can bottle it and a good advertising company can make us millonaires over night. I guess I had better close for now and start sniffing around and try to find something to bottle this valuable dry(it hasn't rained so far this year), and try to think of an enticing name to start this ball rolling. Let's see now, what can I put it in. Yu know, Mom's got a drawer full of empty plastic bags in the cabinet. She won't miss two or three dozen and that will get me started. And, by the way, I can be persuaded to sell allotments of territories on the West coast for investors who wish to get rich handling this new product, I am getting excited , so I better go now and try to line up some commercial Balloon people to transport this Texas Air toall parts of the globe.

Bye for now,

James and Family

Hello everyone,
Dad (James Henson) has changed emails for a more user-friendly way to communicate. I just copied his address book which I'm sure is out-dated. Please forward this to anyone who might need his new address. Send him a reply with your signature to I can better organize his new address book. Below is his latest email which he had trouble sending from his old address. I will check his old email occasionally so everyone gets informed of this change.
Jim (may email is in the cc field)

Dear Family,

Now is the time to review all I know about how to type like a pro and fool all the people that don't know about my hidden talents.

There will be a brief pause while I take a short nap to apprise my faculties of the chore, to see if those elusive talents take shape in the form of intellectual conversation. Seeing no strong support to urge me to continue this , I will avail myself of this opportunity.

I am trying to continue a letter but I lost the first 50 pages when my computer suddenly thought I wasn't getting any where, jumped me to a new page, and here I am again -- beating a dead horse with a short stick, and since my memory is about as good as the dead horse, this part of the letter will be as good as can be expected.

As you may have guessed by now, the world is going on around us, but very little stops at our house. But we are not complaining. About the only trouble Mom and I have is deciding which side of the bread to butter. I didn't realize how the time got away, so I will bring this to a close and say good night or good morning as the case may be, and see if I can find the right button to push to let it try to find the right places to go to. We love you, and I will try later to see if I can send another letter with less weather and more family stuff. All our love from your distant relatives. Your relatives are not so distant, but that big "ol State of Texas" sure is.

Description:
Containing records for approximately 123 million Americans, the 1930 United States Federal Census is the largest census released to date and is the most recent census available for public access. The census gives us a glimpse into the lives of Americans in 1930, and contains information about a household's family members and occupants including: birthplaces, occupations, immigration, citizenship, and military service. The names of those listed in the census are linked to actual images of the 1930 Census. Learn more...

Holliday High School junior hasn't much time to waste

A young man who is really moving. That's the description his principal at Holliday High School applies to Jim Henson, 17-year-old junior.

Young Henson is an artist, musician, poet and actor and student.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Henson of Lakeside East on Lake Wichita, Jim is an honor pupil at Holliday. His father is Clark Center director at Midwestern University.

With his many activities, young Henson is a busy student, in and out of the classroom. "He's really moving all the time," Ray Coe, Holliday High School principal, says.

Jim plays trombone in the Holliday band and has won First Division ratings in solo and ensemble and has been first chair in district band and second chair in all-region band. Last spring, he was a member of a trombone quartet that won first in state competition.

He has written a collection of poetry and prose, is assistant editor of the school annual, a member of the student council and a class officer.

In University Interscholastic League events he has won second place in poetry for two years. He was a member of the all-star cast in a one-act play competition.

When he can find time, Jim likes to paint. He is mostly self-taught, studying from library books and from his collection of art books. An early interest in drawing has led him to other media, including acrylic, watercolor, ink and charcoal.

More than 150 of his works will be exhibited in a one-man show from 1 to 6 p.m. today at 2003 Ninth, Wichita Falls.

Since young Henson attended his first sidewalk art show in Holliday in 1969, he has become a regular exhibitor in similar shows throughout the Wichita Falls area. During the past three years, he has won more than 35 awards, including three Holliday youth trophies and Best of Show at Henrietta.

by Jim Henson

You are cordially invited to attend a one-man show exhibiting over 150 original acrylics, watercolors, inks, pencils and mixed media by eighteen year old artist Jim Henson. April 8, 1973 from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. at Clark Student Center, Midwestern University Campus.

Jim Henson, eighteen, has had no formal training in art. He is primarily self-taught, studying from library books and from his own collection of art books. His early interest in drawing led him to other mediums including acrylic, watercolor, ink and charcoal.

Jim's interest in paintings by the old masters and contemporary artists, such as Andrew Wyeth, has aimed him in the direction of realism. However, his artwork includes abstract, impressionism and surrealism. His variety results from his various interests in literature and works of other artists. Most of his paintings, like literature, have tone, mood, subject and theme. Many of his themes are taken from prose, poetry, short stories and the Bible. Jim strives to make the mood of his paintings nostalgic and dramatic.

Although he has a variety of subjects and techniques, his basic style is usually recognizable by his use of rich earthy colors and contrasting light and shade.

Since Jim attended his first sidewalk art show in Holliday, Texas in 1969 he has become known in many surrounding towns which sponsor annual sidewalk art shows. During 1969, 1970, 1971 and 1972, he has won more than 50 awards including three consecutive Holliday youth trophies, the 1972 Holliday adult trophy, and Henrietta's Best of Show Award.

Jim has had three one-man art shows in Wichita Falls. At the age of fourteen he was presented in a one-man show at the Moffett Library, Midwestern University. At fifteen the Student Union Board of Midwestern University presented him at Clark Student Center. Robison's Gallery sponsored a one-man show when he was seventeen. He is a member of the Wichita Falls Art Association of the Woman's Forum, the Holliday Art Association, the Vernon Art League, and the Texas Fine Art Association.

Jim is a senior at Holliday High School and plays trombone in the band. He has won First Division ratings in University Interscholastic League Solo and ensemble, has been first chair in the District and All Region Bands and has been a member of the All Region Orchestra. In 1973 he became a member of the All State Orchestra. He also holds the position of Drum Major and Band Captain.

He is an honor student and was valedictorian of his eighth grade graduating class. In University Interscholastic League events he has won first place in District and second place in Regional poetry interpretation. He also won second place in the Hirschi High School, and Texas Tech speech tournaments. Jim was chosen as a member of the all-star cast in one act play competition, and has won first place in Ready Writing in junior high and third place in high school. He has written a collection of poetry and prose, is editor of the school annual, a member of the student council, and a class officer. The National Merit Honor Society selected him as a member of "Who's Who in American High Schools", and he was picked by another honor society as a member of "Outstanding American High School Students".

Jim displays his works locally, and has a small studio in his home. His works are on display in the Robison Gallery in Wichita Falls and the Alfred Lee Gallery in Houston.

Jim Henson, twenty, is primarily self-taught, studying from library books, and from his own collection of art books. His early interest in drawing led him to mediums including acrylic, oil, watercolor, ink, charcoal, and pastel. At present his course of study includes the pursuit of a B.F.A. Degree within the excellent art department of Midwestern University.

Jim's interest in paintings by the Old Masters and contemporary artists, such as Andrew Wyeth, has aimed him in the direction of realism. However, his artwork includes abstract, impressionism and surrealism.

Although he has a variety of subjects and techniques, his basic style is usually recognizable by his use of rich earthy colors and contrasting light and shade.

Since Jim attended his first art show in Holliday, Texas in 1969 he has become known in many surrounding towns sponsoring annual shows. To date Jim has won more than 150 painting awards including 7 consecutive Holliday art festival trophies; best of show awards from Henrietta, Burkburnett, and Holliday; and a first place award in the region 16 Texas Fine Arts Association.

Jim has had four one-man shows in Wichita Falls. At the age of fourteen Moffett Library of Midwestern University sponsored his first individual showing. At fifteen the Student Union Board of Midwestern University presented him at Clark Student Center. Robison's Gallery held a showing when he was seventeen. Again, at eighteen, the Student Union Board presented Jim's work.

Jim is a member of the Board of Directors of the Wichita Falls Art Association of the Woman's Forum where he holds the position of Gallery Chairman. He also holds memberships with the Vernon Art League, the Holliday Art Association, and the Texas Fine Art Association.

In high school Jim was an honor student and was selected by the National Merit Honor Society as a member of "Who's Who In American High Schools". Another honor society chose him as a member of "Outstanding American High School Students". Other awards in high school include making the Texas All State Orchestra playing the trombone, a First Division Allstate Solo, state alternate in Poetry Interpretation, first place Regional Ready Writing, and best actor in One-act Play competition.

Presently Jim continues his interest in music in the Midwestern Band, and is cartoonist for the Midwestern newspaper, The Wichitan. His cartoon, "Dribbles," recently was awarded first place in the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association. He is also Art Director for Midwestern's yearbook, the Wai-kun.

RECORD NEWS STAFF

Jim Henson of Wichita Falls has announced a studio open house at North Texas State University on Wednesday.

His show, the result of several semesters of work in the doctoral program in advanced teaching of art, is titled "An Eye to Soul: A Fragment of the Process (A Computer-Assisted Construction)."

According to Henson, video computers and color-coded keyboards used in the show allow the viewer actively to participate in the art experience. Video screen colors activated by the participant are picked up by mirrors that form part of the art constructions themselves.

Henson hopes to bring the show to Wichita Falls after the North Texas presentation.

The open house will be from 4-6 p.m. in Room 311 of the campus graduate studios, Quad II.

House talk

By Sue Babb
Woman's Editor

The people up around Vernon must be very glad that artist Jim Henson has come to town.

Nowadays when they drive by the big old two-story brick house on East Wilbarger, they can glance up at the balcony and watch him doing some serious painting. Strangers, too, may find it unusual to see an "artist in residence" working at his easel right out on the front porch on main street.

However, Jim, a Wichita Falls artist who has purchased this 1900 early 1900s house, will be doing just that as he gets settled and renovates it for a studio-gallery-residence. He teaches four art classes at Vernon Regional Junior College.

The house, once the property of the J. B. King family— pioneers in the Vernon area—has 14 rooms and a few choice features such as: basement, 5000 square feet of floor space, three chimney flues which incorporate eight fireplaces, a cistern, red tile roof, pine woodwork, tile porch and some ceiling light fixtures which can definitely be preserved for use.

Jim will keep the house as near its original architecture as possible and this includes the beautiful built-in buffet sideboard in the formal dining room and the stencilling around the foyer ceiling.

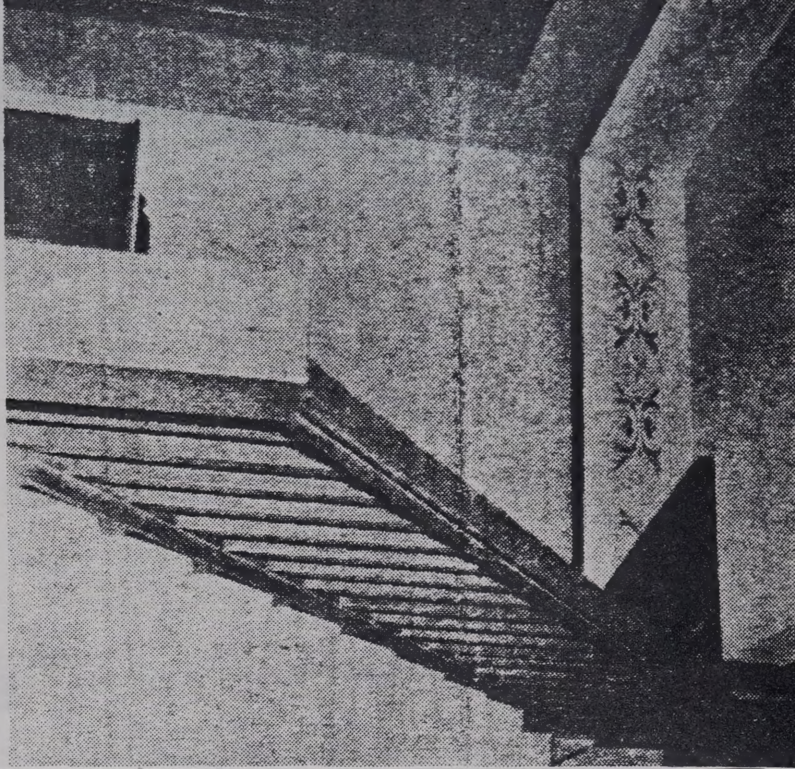
"This house provides something that every artist dreams about—having his own studio and gallery together."

In early October Henson plans an open house and art show with works from at least three other artists besides those of his own.

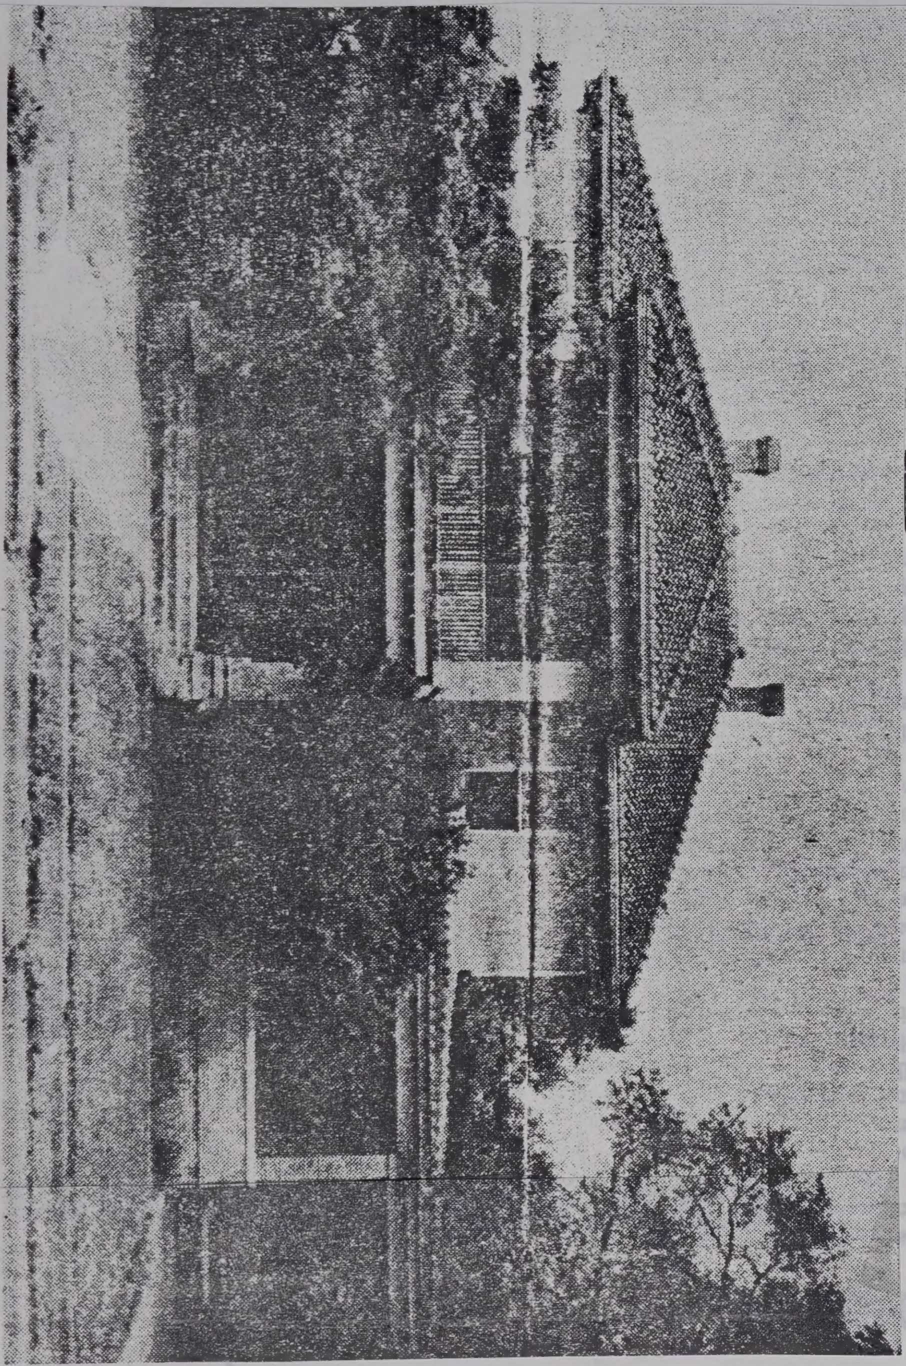
Like most older houses, the kitchen was the room requiring the most urgent attention so Jim is completely renovating this one by installing new cabinets and appliances.

"I have a system for remodeling. I try to work a little part of each day on the house. It took me 13 days just to dig out the debris and get it cleared away from the driveway. I'm also stripping and refinishing all of the woodwork."

The idea of lots of space and architectural details inspired him to buy the house and undertake the restoration. And this is one reason he wants to keep it authentic in design. He is doing most of the work himself but did a lot of trading—his paintings for someone else's labor. He has retained some of the furnishings that were used originally in the house, such as the large old four poster bedroom suite.



DECORATIVE STENCILLING — The foyer of Jim Henson's house features decorative stencilling around the ceiling and a simple pine stairway.



GETTING A FACE LIFT — Once an elegant house on a main street in Vernon, this two story brick home was vacant 15 years until artist, Jim Henson undertook its restoration.

New Museum Director Is Appointed

He fills a post left vacant by the recent resignation of the museum's first executive director, Mrs. Doug Jeffrey.

The appointment is effective Jan. 1.

Mr. Henson, a talented artist whose work drew immediate attention and many local purchases at annual Vernon Art League Shows while he was still a high school student, moved to Vernon from Wichita Falls following graduation from Midwestern State University. He received a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree from MSU with a double major in painting and ceramics and a minor in art history in 1976.

Mr. Henson will continue to serve as a part-time painting and drawing instructor at the college.

Mr. Henson's museum experience includes gallery director for the Wichita Falls Art Association, the Women's Forum Gallery and the Municipal Auditorium Gallery there.

He also served on the MSU Bicentennial Committee in 1975-76, as "hanging" chairman, receiving and displaying historical documentary shows from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Henson, in addition to travel to museums and galleries abroad, has spent time and research in North American museums in San Diego, San Miguel, Mexico, Santa Fe, Fort Worth, Chicago and Rockland, Maine.

"My basic philosophy for museum and gallery operation is maintenance of a constantly changing program aimed at reflecting lifestyles of people at all economic, social and cultural levels by providing a variety of periodically changing exhibits in addition to a permanent collection," Mr. Henson says.

Directors of the Museum unanimously approved the appointment of Mr. Henson to the position at a meeting held Thursday.

His employment was recommended by a search committee headed by J. Ben Boston as chairman, and including Mrs. J. J. Slaugenhop, Jeanne Ross, Killen Moore and Dr. Wayne McCully.

Also at the meeting, Museum President Dr. Jim M. Williams appointed a nominating committee to recommend members for designation to an executive committee, to propose names for broadening of museum board membership, and to present a new slate of officers.

Named to the panel were Mr. Boston, Mrs. J. J. Muirhead, Mrs. Slaugenhop, Mrs. John Hardin and Aubrey Lockett.

Present for Thursday's board meeting were Dr. Williams, Mr. Lockett, Dr. McCully, William D. Benson, William A. Bond, Mr. Boston, Congressman Jack Hightower, C. L. Boynton, Garland Johnston and Mmes. Slaugenhop, Muirhead, M. G. Poteet, John Hardin Jr. and Norman Loader.

AREA'S LONGEST PAINTING?—Artist Jim Henson, executive director of the Red River Valley Museum as well as art instructor at Vernon Regional Junior College, and local building contractor Joe Latour are pictured with what might be the area's longest framed canvas painting. It's four feet tall, 22 feet and six months long, according to Mr. Henson. Six months is the length of time that he spent painting it. The scene is an acrylic full-color work depicting a stretch of Maine coastline, which Mr. Henson painted for Mr. and Mrs. Latour, to remind them of the coast of New Hampshire, where they formerly resided. The painting, done in three sections, will hang at the second story level of the one-year-old Latour home south of Vernon near the Santa Rosa Roundup grounds. The entire painting will be visible only from the second floor interior balcony. "You will sort of walk into the sea" from the home's stairway, Mr. Latour says. (Record Photo)

Vernon artist gaining national prominence

By LOUISE GREGG

Jim Henson, Vernon, Texas, artist and director of Red River Valley Museum, will host a public showing of his paintings from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Henson's gallery and studio, site of the showing, is at 1024 Wilbarger in Vernon.

Henson, who needs no introduction to this area, naturally is proud of his paintings that recently have taken a Western turn. But he seems almost as proud of his gallery-home which he and his wife, Fay, have been in the process of restoring since 1977.

The two-story, 13-room house was built in 1917 by Wilbarger County pioneer John Peter King. Mrs. Henson is a great-granddaughter of King.

A Midwestern State University graduate, Henson is a versatile artist who has worked in several mediums: acrylic, oil, watercolor, ink, charcoal and pastel. He has held several one-man shows and received many awards. His Sunday showing will feature watercolors, and three Oklahoma artists have been invited to share the spotlight by exhibiting their works.

Since he was a lad, Henson has had a natural bent toward re-creating scenes that appeal to his aesthetic senses. He's done seascapes, mountains, plains, deserts — any bit of grandeur or awesome simplicity that triggers his artistic imagination.

And now, Henson is concentrating on Western paintings.

"I've hesitated in the Western art field," Henson said, making it clear that "Russell and Remington have covered exhaustively the true West." Nonetheless, there's always room for another Western artist of Henson's caliber.

Obviously, others think so too, because Henson has been commissioned by a Florida company to do a series of paintings for reproduction on collectors' plates. "How the West Was Won" is the title of the series and projected editions include: the Pony Express, Oregon Trail, Peace Treaty, Gold Rush, Working Cowboy and the Driving of the Golden Spike, commemorating that historic moment when East met West by way of the railroad.

"The whole idea behind the series is to create a montage, give an overall view of each particular event rather than a momentary glimpse" Henson explained.

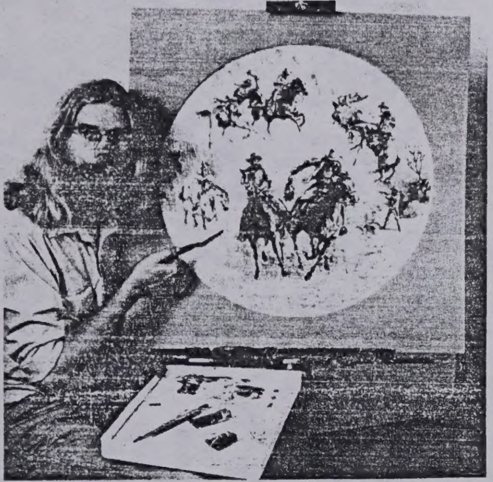
The paintings to be reproduced on plates are excitingly real. Everything is Western to the hilt. One can almost sense the rise and fall of chests of Indians and cowboys, and tomahawks, guns and wild beasts are startlingly authentic.

Henson said he's used real models to execute his paintings. For the Pony Express series, models were members of the Fargo Pony Express competition team. Other models have been cavalrymen from Fort Sill and Kiowa Indians.

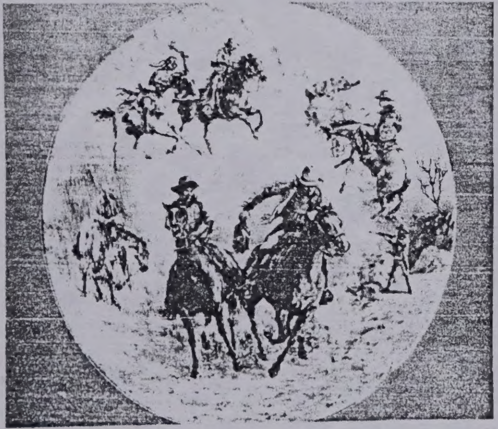
"The artist today must be extremely careful in accuracy," Henson said as he discussed the research that precedes the painting of Western figures and events.

Henson may be a regional artist, but he's gaining national recognition. One of these days it may be Russell, Remington and Henson.

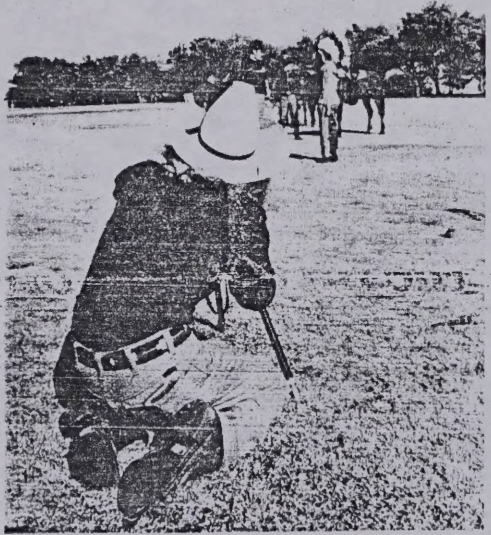
Think about it. Why fly to the Louvre when a 50-mile drive to Vernon will put you in the midst of a superior artist and his distinguished works?



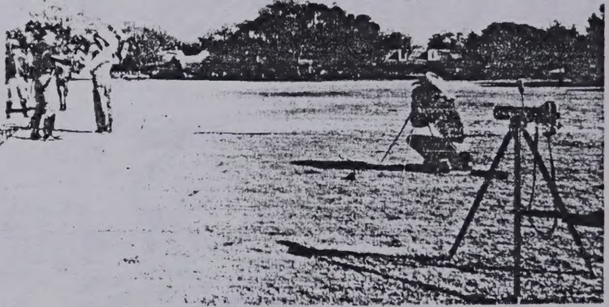
FIRST OF SERIES COMPLETED—The first of the six paintings in the story of the Old West depicts the Pony Express and has already been completed by the artist. The art work and five others by Henson will be turned into limited edition collector's plates by the Florida-based company with plans to market them in 1981.



CLOSE-UP—A close-up of the completed Pony Express painting is a colorful montage of action showing the urgency of the riders as they hand off the mail bag, an Indian chase, an encounter with a mountain lion and a hold-up man while at lower left the Pony Express rider completes his mission despite a blinding rain storm. (Photos provided by Jim Henson.)



RECORDING THE STORY—As the reenactment of the Medicine Lodge Peace Treaty of 1867 takes place, Henson records the event. At present time, Henson has completed the first painting which depicts the Pony Express, has begun the Peace Treaty and has completed research and preliminary work on the Oregon Trail.



ANOTHER ANGLE—Going from the first camera to a second, Henson gets another angle on the Peace Treaty. When he begins work on the fourth of the six paintings in the plate series, the Working Cowboy, the artist plans to use hands at the Waggoner Ranch during a roundup to portray the trail drive called for in the painting.

Local artist capturing drama of old west

Jim Henson, locally known artist, museum director and art instructor, has been commissioned by a Florida-based company, Communicomp, to design and execute six paintings depicting "How the West Was Won." The paintings are proposed to be developed into art work on limited edition collectors' plates which may be nationally marketed in 1981.

The design of this series is unique, having an added appeal that gives the plates additional collectability. The theme is far grander than might be portrayed in single scenes. Rather than trying to capture only that one moment of a pony express rider's urgency, only a fleeting minute of discovery as a gold-miner finds his first nugget, Henson is creating with each painting an entire panorama with a montage of events depicting the significance of each moment chosen for the individual plate.

The first plate, with painting already completed, portrays the Pony Express. Second in the series, for which Henson has already completed the research and preliminary work although he has not actually begun the painting, is the Orgeon Trail. The third painting, on which Henson has just started research, is the Peace Treaty while the fourth in the series will be the Working Cowboy, in which Henson will utilize Waggoner Ranch cowboys during a round up to depict a trail drive, the subject of the fourth plate. The fifth painting will be the Gold Rush, and the final of the six-part series will be Driving the Gold Spike, which Henson says is still in the planning stages.

Particularly interesting about the series is that Henson has recruited models who will be recognizable in each painting. To complement the historical accuracy, his models have real life qualifications in each situation reenacted.

For instance, the models for the first painting, the Pony Express, are members of the Fargo Pony Express competition team. The third painting depicting an 1867 peace treaty involves an authentically staged meeting between mounted calvarymen of the Fort Sill Field Artillery Half Section and a Kiowa Indian, Nahno-Cayou, descendent of the tribal leader, Ten Bears, who played a large part in the Medicine Lodge Peace Treaty of 1867.

This is not Henson's first experience with limited edition plates. In 1979, he completed a series of three-dimensional Chinese cinnabar plates for Calhoun's Collectors Society in Minneapolis, Minn.

Examples of these plates, as well as recent paintings, will be on display when Henson and his wife, Fay, open their studio and gallery to the public on Sunday, Dec. 7, from 1 to 5 p.m., at 1024 Wilbarger. Paintings by Oklahoma artists Robert Gartland, Andrew Harmentas and Hollis Howard will also be on display.

SETTING THE STAGE—For the third in the series of limited edition collector's plates depicting the drama of "How the West Was Won" as commissioned by a Flordia-based company, local artist Jim Henson travelled to Fort Sill, Okla. to stage a meeting between mounted calvarymen of the Fort Sill Artillry Half Section and a Kiowa Indian.

READY TO SHOOT—With his subjects in place, artist Henson races to one of two cameras he has set up on tripods in stragetic locations to capture the action on film. He uses the photos and slides to convey the story to canvass.

PORTFOLIO: Jim Henson

by Sylvia Jones

Looking at one of Jim Henson's paintings is like walking in the wide open spaces of West Texas. The viewer's eyes wander over the scene finding no stopping point, only resting places for the eyes to pause before moving on into the infinity provided by the artist.

A native Wichitan and resident of Vernon, Jim Henson's personality exudes the same winsome spirit he creates in his paintings. The son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Henson of Wichita Falls, this warm, sensitive, and multitalented artist is fast gaining national recognition.

At the age of 18, Henson was faced with a dilemma. His talent and love for both music and art made it difficult for him to decide which would be his career choice. Henson made his decision and art preempted music. Today, eight years later, he is known to this region as a talented and successful artist with infinite horizons.

Henson first entered art competition in 1960 when he was 14 years old. A year later he began displaying work in the annual Vernon Art Show. Since that time, his paintings have been purchased and displayed in local homes in ever-increasing numbers.

Henson graduated in 1973 from Holliday High School, and three years later he became an instructor at Vernon Regional Junior College (VRJC). Later in the same year he received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Midwestern State University. He has taught art and journalism, and currently conducts three regular semester classes and one evening class at VRJC.

Although much of the art he produces is a result of self-teaching and practical experience, Henson remembers how he was encouraged by college instructors to look for a fresh approach, to think in creative terms, and to strive for expert craftsmanship in the presentation of an idea.

Today, watercolor is his favorite medium of expression and has been the most popular with his local patrons. However, he is currently working at least 50 percent in oil because of its reproductive quality. Superior reproduction is vital in Henson's latest commission and his growing stature as a Western artist can only be enhanced by this assignment— paintings for a projected series of limited edition collector's plates depicting "How the West Was Won."

This plate series will be issued by Fairmont China of Pasadena, California, with a possible projection of 5,000 copies of each design. Each plate will feature a montage of a particular time in history with emphasis on the men who helped develop the West. Characters scheduled for the commemorative series begin with "The Trailblazers." Following will be "The Oregon Trail," "The Pony Express," "The Peace Treaty," "The Working Cowboy," and "The Lawman."

Spending countless hours in research before beginning his designs for the plates, his dedication to truth is carried into the realistic scenes he creates. He recruits authentic models and engages in long talks with qualified advisors for each historical event to be depicted. For instance, members of the Fargo Pony Express competition team were used for Henson's early mail carriers in the first completed painting. In another painting, a meeting was staged for the peace treaty using cavalrymen of the Fort Sill Field Artillery Half Section and a Kiowa Indian named Nahno-Cayou, a great-great-grandson of Ten Bears, the tribal leader who participated in the Medicine Lodge Peace Treaty of 1967. Waggoner Ranch cowboys will be prototypes for the fifth plate.

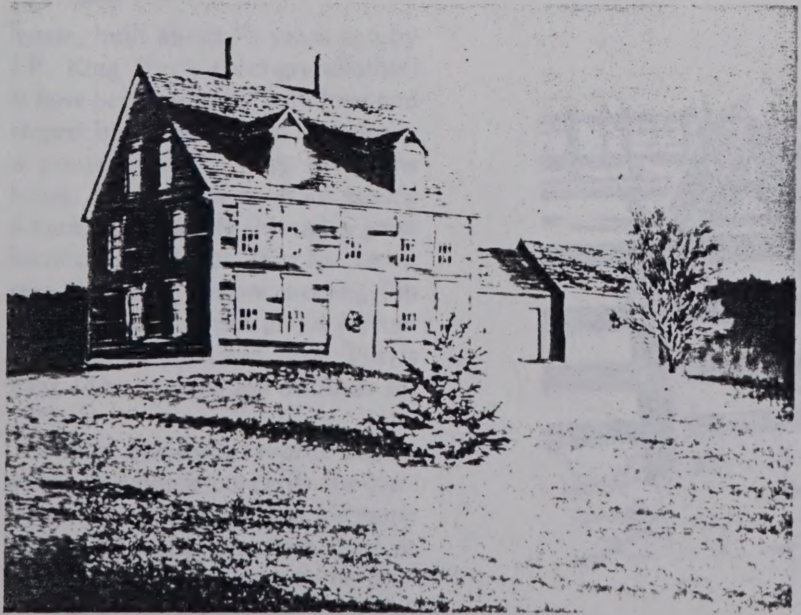
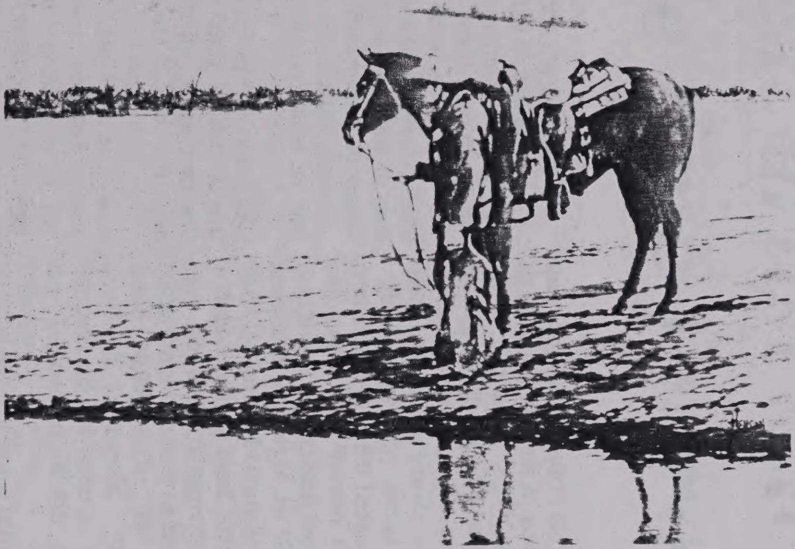
The Western plates are Henson's second experience in creating collector's plates. In 1979 a 5-plate series of authentic Chinese cinnabar (carved red lacquer) were put on the market through Calhoun's Collectors Society of Minnesota. The artist for "The Five Perceptions of Weo Cho" series was left un-named lest the uniqueness of a Western artist doing Oriental art should hurt the marketing success. Each design was cast with 19,500 plates, and the first design was sold out within three months. It can now be revealed that the plates (made in Taiwan and China) were designed and carved in wax from master molds by Jim Henson, conservative artist from Vernon.

This commission came to Henson partly because of his expertise as a jewelry designer. He spent 15 days in the Chicago area researching available Chinese archives before attempting designs based on true traditional Chinese art. The research also produced outlines for beautiful short stories dealing with the five senses which accompany the plates.

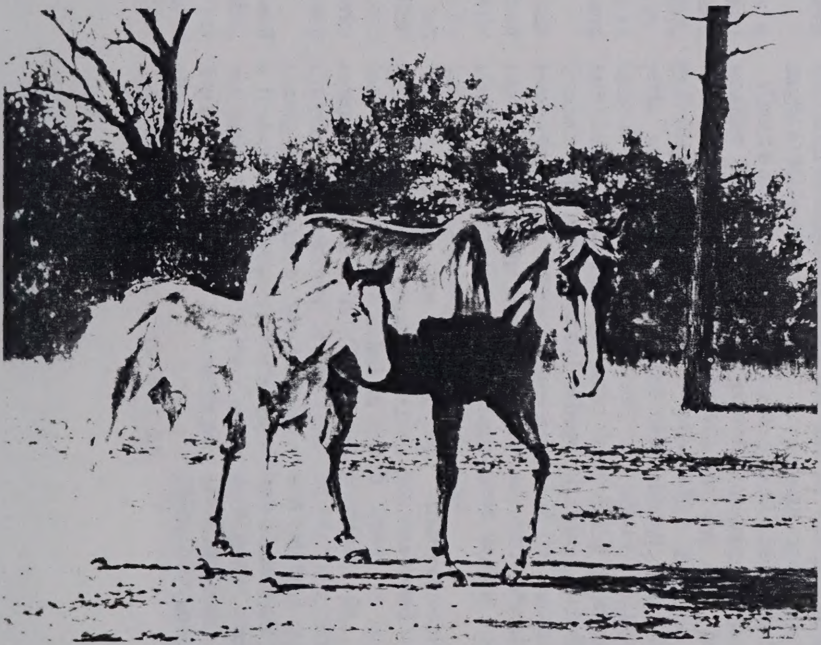
Henson's success as an artist advanced in 1978 when he contracted with Merrill-Chase Galleries of Chicago to submit to them all of his works done during that year with the first right of refusal going to the gallery. Approximately 30 pieces were accepted and Henson received national exposure as well as a steady income.



After the contract expired, Henson could have renewed. Instead, he became director of the Red River Valley Museum and devoted himself to preservation in the area of museums. He stayed at this post for two years before resigning to devote himself to the Western plate series. He also began work on private commissions that had backlogged during the time he was under contract to Merrill-Chase.



His Eastern and Western art were on display together when Jim and his wife, the former Fay King of Rockport, Maine, held an open house recently in their gallery-home-studio at 1024 Wilbarger in Vernon. The occasion also provided visitors a look at the house which Jim bought in 1977 from a "dealer in old merchandise." The 2-story house, built about 75 years ago by J.P. King (Fay's great-grandfather) is now being restored with love and respect by the artist who is basically a preservationist. Fay loves the home, too, and jokes about getting it back in her family through a great sacrifice on her part. (She had never seen the house before meeting Jim but had heard stories about it from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis King.) She married Jim on April 16, 1978.



One of Henson's favorite stories about this house concerns the purchase. Without a dime to his name and having one part-time class at VRJC as his total income, he borrowed $10 from his mother to buy a tank of gas to go to Vernon to sign papers and buy the house.

That was four years ago and many accomplishments and rewards have come Henson's way since then. But today, whether it's designing collector's plates depicting the Old West, tinkering in Chinese cinnabar, or painting with watercolors or oils, Jim Henson is a rare example of the masterful craftsman and successful artist. Looking back, Henson could have been successful as a musician, and even become more than "just one of the crowd" in an orchestra, but the choice made eight years ago is justified. Jim Henson is surely destined to become one of the truly great names in art galleries across this nation. W

Local artist's activities leave little time for routine, sleep

By JOYCE ANN ASHLEY
Family Life Editor

Those who view his work would no doubt consider Jim Henson one of the most talented artist of the '80s. Yet this cretive young man does not seem impressed with his own abilities and instead seems determined to spend as much time as possible pursuing and improving every facet of his talent.

"When do you sleep?" Henson was asked recently while in town to put together details for a one-man art show set for Oct. 31-Nov. 2 at the Waggoner National Bank.

"I can sleep when I get old," was the quick answer, and this indeed seems to be the philosophy of the painter-student-writer-lecturer who is managing to accomplish more in his lifetime than most people dream about.

Henson is currently professionally employed by three different sources: the Texas Commission on the Arts with the Artists in Schools program, oil and drawing instructor for the Beebe Sawyer Memorial Art Center in Quanah, and teaching rhetoric and composition at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls.

In addition, Henson is also enrolled as a full-time student at MSU, completing a masters degree. If all of that were not enough to fill his hours, he is in the process of co-authoring his second book with Connie Hall Stockard on the creative process.

"And of course, I am painting as much as possible," he states.

Henson currently serves as president of Vernon's Art League and is a member of the Vernon Council of Arts board of directors. He is also an associate member of the Midwestern State University Lecture Series.

Henson's last local show was a year ago at the Waggoner National Bank. Since that time he has traveled some 30,000 miles in England, Scotland, France, Germany, Switzerland and Austria, as well as the Dallas-Fort Worth area and Chicago.

At about the same time as last year's bank show, Henson received what he considers one of the major breaks in his career when he was invited to participate in a major art auction and sale, the Fort Worth Cutting Classic Sale, a cutting horse and western art sale featuring the works of internationally known artists such as Melvin Warren.

"This got me involved with well known painters," Henson states, "and put me in position where my paintings became more in demand at higher prices."

Henson also became associated with the Artist Guild in Wichita Falls composed of Steve Grey, a professional portrait artist, and six other full time artists. The group originated on Baylor Street in Wichita Falls and quickly moved into Century Plaza. It then move on to Market Place, the old Kemp House. Henson is no longer associated with the Guild because of his own private studio at Midwestern.

About a year ago, Beebe Sawyer, a wealthy Dallas resident and patron of the arts who had roots in Quanah, gave the bulk of her estate to two projects: one, the building of the new Quanah library, and the second, to establish a memorial art cener in Quanah with a professional college instructor for the course. Henson was contacted to be the instructor. The classes are free to the public and are totally sustained through the Sawyer memorial funds. The classes are generally oil and drawing classes located in a house donated to the cause through the Trinity Episcopal Church. All members of the community are invited to take lessons on a first-come, first-serve basis. Henson notes that generally the classes are made up of about 20 students per class.

At about the same time that he began teaching in Quanah, Henson became interested in researching the "creative process," based on new findings in left and right brain research. He enrolled in Midwestern to explore his writing potential for doing a book or research in that area. Shortly after enrolling, a group was organized to spend the first half of the summer in Europe as a Europe as Campus program. It was from that experience and travels that he and Connie Hall Stockard, poet in residence for the Texas Commission on the Arts, put together a book which they call "A European Sketchbook: Impressions of a Poet and a Painter." To be published in the spring, the book contains photographs, drawings, paintings, poetry and prose of the European travels. The two are currently at work on the second book dealing with the creative process.

After returning from Europe, Henson was asked to travel to Chicago as a tutor in a Chicago surburb, Hinsdale, Ill., to tutor students enrolled in a private school for gifted and talented children. While there, he took time out from tutoring to visit such major museums and galleries as the Museum of Modern Art and the Chicago Art Institute.

Now that fall is here, Henson is back teaching at Midwestern while painting and writing. Among his activities are working with Stockard and the Texas Commission on the Arts in five area schools as a guest artist. The program was designed by the Commission to reach schools that do not have any kind of art or creative writing program and make contact with those students. Schools in the program are Electra, Prairie Valley, Nocona, St. Jo and Ringold.

He has just completed a most unusual painting for the dome house of Gregg Jones of Odell. Based on the Indian concept of the creation of the world, the 1200 square foot painting is the result of some two years of painting and research. Jeff Jones, former media specialist at Vernon Regional Junior College and now of Austin, assisted Henson in researching the constellations which appear in the painting. The painting, Henson states, is about 50 percent on the wall of the home itself and 50 percent on canvas.

After the Waggoner National Bank show, which opens on Wednesday, Henson plans a show during the first week of December at the First Wichita National Bank in Wichita Falls with artist Steve Grey.

CHICAGO (AP) — Although some children insist they can study with the TV blaring or while eating a snack, this is rarely true, says a new booklet that offers some guidelines on how parents can help their kids build better study habits.

— Try to arrange that your children's study area has a desk, a comfortable chair and the necessary accessories such as pencils, paper and erasers, enabling them to concentrate on the job at hand without having to stop to search for the things they need.

— Provide children with reference and other source books so that they can quickly and easily find answers to questions without wasting time and interrupting their concentration.

— Parents should be sure that their children are in a healthy, relaxed state of mind before they sit down to study. When they are tired, hungry, anxious or distracted by something, they will accomplish little no matter how they try.

— If your youngsters feel the need to talk to you about a problem, help them resolve the problem before they get down to studying; otherwise, they'll spend their time worrying about the problem instead of concentrating on their homework.

— If there's a need for you to talk to your children or to discipline them for some reason, it's best to delay this until their homework is completed.

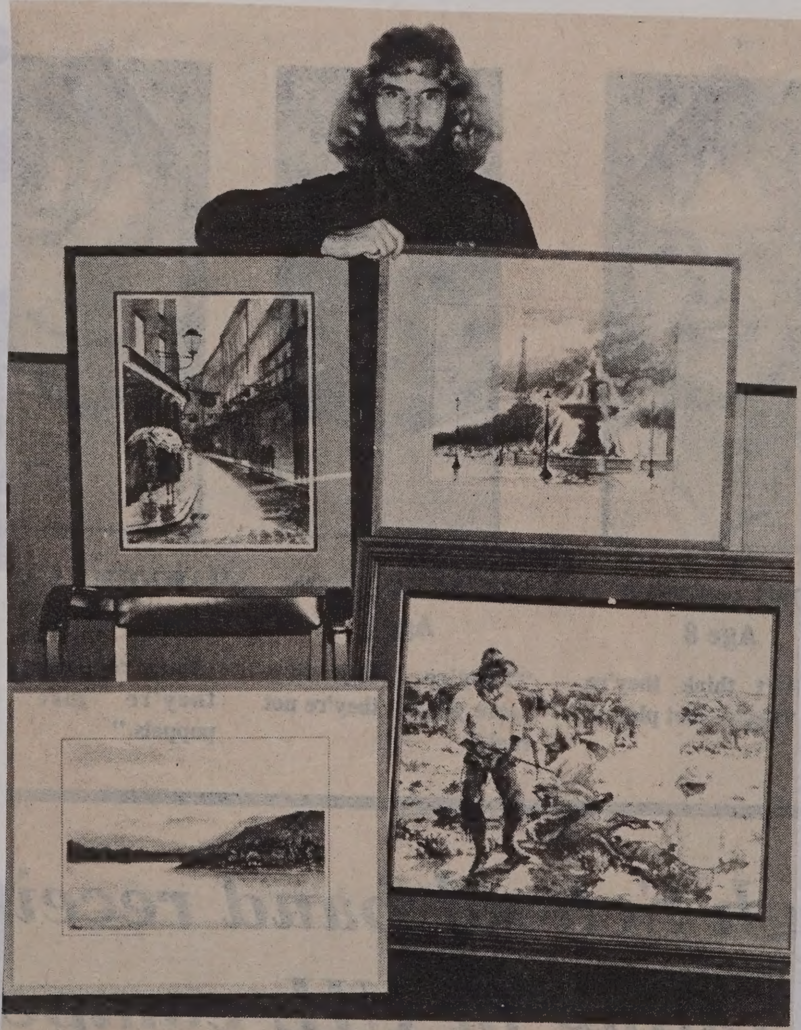
M HENSON

Henson is looking forward to the local show next week for it will show the public many of the drawing and sketches which appear in the European Sketchbook. Some 35 or more paintings and drawings will be on exhibit during regular banking hours.

"One of my favorite paintings in the show," Henson says, "is of morning brandings on the Waggoner Ranch, and I think you can see the influence of my European experience in it. The colors are of a more expressive technique.

"I'm generally known for my almost photographic paintings," he states, "and in this one and others in the show you can see a looser style along the lines of impressionism."

As a very busy year culminates for this artist, one would assume Henson would be ready to put aside brushes and catch up on some sleep, but such is not the case. Henson only this past week agreed to reproduce as a full-size painting a photograph of Teddy Roosevelt on the Frisco Railroad platform early in the century as he addressed a crowd in Vernon. The painting will be a gift to the Red River Valley Museum on the occasion of its grand opening and dedication early in 1986.



MULTI-TALENTED ARTIST — Jim Henson, most popularly known for his detailed paintings of western life, displays another facet of his artistic talent as seen in these four paintings which show a softer, more impressionistic style. Henson, whose latest activities include a study-trip to Europe, co-authoring a book on his travels, teaching at Midwestern State University, where he is also a student, and teaching at the Beebee Sawyer Memorial Art Center in Quanah, is currently planning a one-man show in Vernon at the Waggoner National Bank on Oct. 31-Nov. 2. JIM HENSON

Jim Henson is a native Wichita Falls artist who now resides in Vernon, Texas, where he is currently a full-time practicing artist at his home and studio, an historic Vernon home which he is restoring.

Henson graduated from Midwestern State University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree and has studied with watercolorist Hollis Howard of the University of Science and Art of Oklahoma at Chickasha, and David A. Leffel of the Art Students League in New York. While at Midwestern he had the opportunity to travel extensively in Europe in 1973 through a humanities program "Europe as Campus". Henson was the instructor of art at Vernon Regional Junior College from 1976 until May of 1983 when he began painting full time.

During the past five years he has designed and made jewelry for Diamonds International Award-winning jeweler, Michael Hutton of Austin; he has displayed works in the Merrill Chase Galleries of Chicago; and has served for two years as the director of the Red River Valley Museum in Vernon.

Among Jim's recent works are four centennial commissions: the official seal and souvenir collectors' plate for Wilbarger County, the Wilbarger County Courthouse of 1908 for Vernon Savings, and original artwork for the cover of "Wichita County Beginnings" by Louise Kelley for Wichita County.

He recently completed six paintings in a series on the American West which are being reproduced and marketed nationally as limited edition collectors' plates produced by Fairmont China of Pasadena, California.

Jim Henson is not new to the collector field, as it was his art used in "The Five Perceptions of Weo Cho" plate series of 1979, an authentic Chinese cinnabar five-plate issue of 19,500 pieces each, which sold out in three months. His current western collectors' plate series, "The Long Road West", is now being released to the United States and Canadian markets.

Brian Cole Henson, CDT, AAIA, CSI- EP's Experience

Designer
Gensler
Privately Held; Architecture & Planning industry
January 2011 – Present (8 months)

Born January 5th, 1988 in Wichita Falls, TX.

I attended the Savannah College of Art and Design from 2006-2010 and graduated Summa Cum Laude with my Bachelor of Fine Arts in Architecture (2009) and Masters of Architecture (2010).

A preview video of my Masters Thesis - The Oklahoma Plains Performance and Negotiations Center - can be viewed at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qeD8R7AvEe4 as well as my current portfolio at briancolehenson.com

I now work in the Gensler Dallas Lifestyle Studio as part of the Toyota Rollout Team with an extraordinary group of highly motivating and inspiring individuals. I have been part of several very collaborative projects throughout the U.S.

I recently became certified as a Construction Documents Technologist and am now working toward LEED accreditation. I plan to begin taking my ARE exams as soon as I am eligible; and plan to obtain architectural licensure in the state of Texas by age 26.

My favorite U.S. cities that I have visited include Chicago, Austin, New Orleans, Savannah, Charleston, Seattle, Sedona, and New York City.

I enjoy architectural design and writing competitions, roadtrips/traveling, extreme sports/fitness, and playing/composing music.

Brian Cole Henson, CDT, AAIA, CSI- EP's Experience

Designer
Gensler
Privately Held; Architecture & Planning industry
January 2011 – Present (8 months)

Born January 5th, 1988 in Wichita Falls, TX.

I attended the Savannah College of Art and Design from 2006-2010 and graduated Summa Cum Laude with my Bachelor of Fine Arts in Architecture (2009) and Masters of Architecture (2010).

A preview video of my Masters Thesis - The Oklahoma Plains Performance and Negotiations Center - can be viewed at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qeD8R7AvEe4 as well as my current portfolio at briancolehenson.com

I now work in the Gensler Dallas Lifestyle Studio as part of the Toyota Rollout Team with an extraordinary group of highly motivating and inspiring individuals. I have been part of several very collaborative projects throughout the U.S.

I recently became certified as a Construction Documents Technologist and am now working toward LEED accreditation. I plan to begin taking my ARE exams as soon as I am eligible; and plan to obtain architectural licensure in the state of Texas by age 26.

My favorite U.S. cities that I have visited include Chicago, Austin, New Orleans, Savannah, Charleston, Seattle, Sedona, and New York City.

I enjoy architectural design and writing competitions, roadtrips/traveling, extreme sports/fitness, and playing/composing music.

Kane

Betty Ann Henson Kane, age 56, died on Friday, Jan. 11, 2013 in Somonauk, Ill. She was a native of Wichita Falls and former resident of Lakeside City, Texas.

A memorial service for the immediate family will be held at the home of Jim and Sue Henson in Lakeside City, Texas on Saturday, Jan. 26 at 11 a.m., led by Reverend Isaac Butterworth and Minister of Music Dan White of First Presbyterian Church. She will be laid to rest in Crestview Memorial Cemetery.

Betty Ann was Secretary of the Art Department at Midwestern State University, worked for Individual Development Center, and spent most of her career as receptionist for Central Bail Bonds. She graduated from Holliday High School in 1975 where she was a member of the band.

Surviving family members include her husband, Bill Kane, her parents James and Betty Henson, her brother and his wife Jim and Sue Henson, and her nephews Cole and Adam Henson.

The family asks that memorials be sent on her behalf to the Wichita Falls Humane Society and Wild Bird Rescue of Wichita Falls.

Added by: Patty Hanna

William J. Kane, Sr.

Age 65, of New Castle, entered eternal life on Sunday July 16, 2000 at the Christiana Hospital with his devoted family at his side.

Bill retired from the City of Wilmington Fire Dept. as a Deputy Chief in 1983 after 25 years of dedicated service. For the next 10 years, he was employed by the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington and enjoyed his association and friendship as part of the St. Mark's High School family. Bill was a member of St. Elizabeth's R.C. Church. He served in the US Army from 1954 to 1957. He enjoyed the time spent at his summer residence in Rehoboth. Bill dearly loved and cherished his family, especially his grandchildren. Some of his most treasured moments include his trips to Ireland and listening to his Irish music.

He is survived by his "bride" of 44 years, Mary Ann Brogan Kane; his daughters, Mary Ann O'Neill and Patricia K. Preston, both of Newark; his sons, William J. Kane, Jr. and Michael J. Kane, Sr., both of Wilmington; his sisters, Dolores A. "Sis" Bader of Wilmington, Kathleen A. Krupa of Roselle and Agnes V. Workman of Richardson Park; his brothers, John R. "Jack" Kane of New Castle, Joseph W. Kane of Elsmere, Paul R. Kane, Sr. of Hockessin and Thomas J. Kane, Sr. of Middletown; and 16 grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his parents, James F. and Agnes V. Kane and his brothers, James F. Kane, Jr. and Robert J. Kane, Sr.

Bill had a unique personality and humor that would bring a smile to anyone he met. He will be dearly missed.

Birth:
1748
Bristol
Bristol City
Virginia, USA

Death:
Apr. 16, 1816
Lincoln County
North Carolina, USA

A soldier in the American Revolutionary War.

John Abernathy's will dated 18 April 1816 (original will photocopied at NC Archives and abstracted here) says: to wife Susana, to youngest daughter Polley to have good suport as long as she remains single, to Patsy Thompson, first daughter, the Negro girl she now has called Sarah and 5 dollars in cash as her ful part of the estate Amy Oliver, second daughter, is to get equal part of the property then on hand as the other eight of my children namely Jerimiah my first son & Harley my second son, Bary my third son & Lot my fourth son and also is to live where he now lives until then & also Claton my fifth son is to be equal with the rest and Larkin my sixth son the same, Faney Little my third daughter the same, Polley Abernathy my fourth daughter the same and exclusive of that she is to have the Negro Girl Mass, a bed and furniture cupbord and tabl furniture but if she dies without issue is to be divided among the legatees. Appointed my son Harley Abernathy my second son and Bary my third son my Executors. Witnesses: William Heker, Jurat, William Nancy, John Nantz. Berry Abernathy and Harley Abernathy sworn. Proved July session 1816 by oath of William Heker.
The file contains John Abernathy's original will (at NC Archives 17 June 2003) and a typed transcription of it. Although now preserved, the original will has a few words missing which the transcription fills in. Along with this tanscription is an affidavit by R.B. Oliver dated 22 March 1930 that says he [Mr. Oliver] and his wife, Marie W. Oliver, first saw this will at the Lincoln County, NC court house in August 1899 and requested of Mr. A. Nixon, Clerk of Superior Court in Lincolnton a true, full and complete copy of the Will. In a few days, Mr. Nixon mailed it to him at his [Oliver's] home in Cape Girardeau, Missouri. He further states that this copy is a "full, true and perfect copy of the copy of said will as furnished him by Mr. Nixon, as Clerk of said Court." When the Olivers again visited Lincolnton in May 1923 and asked to see the original will the clerk "reported the original Will was in storage and was not accessible on account of the reconstruction of the court house... affiant further states that he is the great grandson of John Abernathy, deceased, and that from family writings and a diary kept by his grandfather who was the son-in-law of John Abernathy, he has learned the names of all the children of John Abernathy, deceased, and that he verily believes the names set out in said Will are the names of the children of said deceased ..."

Other John Abernathy information from "Oliver Manuscript" says John was in the Revolution, died 1816 and is buried on his plantation on the Catawba River in North Carolina. Source: "York Chapel Graveyard Transcriptions" by Ann B. Rutledge, October 1971 (found at Riverside Regional Library, Jackson, Cape Girardeau County, Missouri, August 1999).

Another source for this 'Fiddler' John Abernathy is his probate file folder "Inventory of the Estate of Fiddler John Abernathy dec'd" at the North Carolina State Archives [call number CR 060.508.1].

One note in this file is by Dr. Jno Scott regarding his last visit to John Abernathy on 7 May 1815. Another document is dated 12 May 1816 "list of Propperty of John Abernathy" includes 280 acres and 8 Negroes: Nann, Sarah, Meriah, Masse [?], Ozban, Eliza, Vilet, Jiney [Siney?] by Bary Abernathy.

TOP O' TEXAS ART SHOW

by Carol King Skinner

You venture from your lazy, Saturday afternoon at home, fight your way through Wichita Falls Saturday "traffic madness", search for a parking space, search even more wildly for parking meter change, wait forever for the street signal to change from "DON'T WALK" to "WALK", only to discover that the light is stuck on "DON'T WALK", and you need to put more change in the parking meter . . . all for an afternoon of culture via a sidewalk art show. But what do you expect in return for your obstacle course performance? Do your eyes drift from painting to painting to sculpture in search of a favored subject? Or is it superior craftsmanship that will attract your inner artistic soul? Must a piece of art be original before it gains your "stamp of approval"? . . . . Perhaps I'm hard to please, but not only do I expect a subject to be interesting, and the artist technically proficient, I also expect the total composition to PLEASE be original! Even if an artist chooses to deal with a tired old subject, it can at least be handled in a unique manner!

An original, well crafted piece of work is exciting because it brings a new experience for its viewers. The "Top O' Texas" art exhibit, sponsored by the Wichita Falls Art Association, in downtown Wichita Falls, Saturday, October 7, held quite a few sources of excitement. Betty Ann Henson, Midwestern State University's art department secretary, exhibited original, hand sewn fabric sculpture that added diversity to this over-bronzed category. If you can imagine a caricature in cloth, this is what Ms. Henson offered to the "Top O' Texas" viewers. Her sculpture would be a worthwhile addition to any show, since it is without a doubt not ordinary.

Bill Richardson III and his wife, Pat, of Electra, are both artists who seem to share a love for wildlife as subject material. He exhibited his interesting sculpture, which is a combination of copper, brass, and weathered wood. The most outstanding of Mrs. Richardson's contributions to the show were her well done watercolors of animals.

Mary Palmer of Holliday

Among over a thousand other pieces of art and craft, was a unique photograph of a telephone pole by Carol King of Decatur. Ms. King successfully combined soft focus and clarity for an effect similar to that of a convex mirror reflection. Ms. King works for the "Wise County Messenger" as a newspaper photographer.

The photographs of Brian McCarty are always unique and imaginative — he is definitely to be considered one of the top of Texas. Brian was one of the 92 artists represented at the "Top O' Texas" show, and is from Wichita Falls.

Mary Palmer, of Holliday, spent years traveling with her military husband, and attributes much of her creativity to experiences gained through travel. Mrs. Palmer, although retired, has returned to school for even more stimuli for art work. She is attending Midwestern State University as an art student, proving that it is never too late to learn something new. An art buyer at the "Top O' Texas" sidewalk art show could have walked away with one of Mary Palmer's exciting paintings, with the assurance that no one else would own a duplicate!

The "Best of Show" winner, Michael Story, exhibited watercolor paintings and prints. He and his father, Fred Story, both professional artists, display their work in their home, travel from art competition to art competition, and manage to sell their art as a means of financial support. Other impressive watercolorists were Ed Hicks of Burkburnett and Joe Wagner of Wichita Falls. The show's judge, Tony Jones, of Texas Christian University, was a watercolorist as well.

Ninety-two artists and craftsmen — from twenty-two cities in Texas and Oklahoma — in all, 1,269 pieces of arts and crafts — a sidewalk art show — why do they do it? Because, as a button on the shirt Michael Story was wearing stated, "You Gotta Have Art!"

Woman uses gun to scare attacker

By BILL LOVING
Staff Writer

A Wichita Falls woman, who was attacked by a man who kicked open her front door, managed to scare her attacker away by shooting at him Wednesday night.

Betty Ann Henson of 1509 Bell reportedly told police that she heard someone knocking on her door about 7:51 p.m. Wednesday. As she approached her door, a man, described as a white male in his 20s, kicked the door open and tried to attack her. Ms. Henson reportedly was able to reach a gun and fire a shot at the man. Ms. Henson's shot missed the man and he fled the scene on foot.
